

34 Give to the Lord, Ye Sons of Fame

Psalm 29

1. Give to the Lord, ye sons of fame, give to the
 • 2. The Lord pro-claims his pow'r a - loud, o'er the vast
 3. He speaks, and howl - ing tem - pests rise, and lay the
 4. His thun - ders rend the vault - ed skies, and pal - ac -
 • 5. The Lord sits sov - 'reign o'er the flood; the Thun - d'rer
 6. We see no ter - rors in his name, but in our

Lord re - nown and pow'r; as - cribe due hon - ors
 • o - cean and the land; his voice di - vides the for - est bare a - round: the fierc - est beasts, with es and tem - ples shake. The moun - tains trem - ble • reigns for - ev - er King; but makes his church his God a Fa - ther find. The voice that shakes all to his name, and his e - ter - nal might a - dore.

 • wa - t'ry cloud, and light - nings blaze at his com - mand.
 pit - eous cries, con - fess the ter - ror of the sound.
 at the noise, the val - leys roar, the des - erts quake.
 • blest a - bode, where we his might - y glo - ries sing.
 na - ture's frame speaks com - fort to the pi - ous mind.

WORDS: Isaac Watts, 1719; alt.; paraphrase of Psalm 29

MUSIC: Thomas Williams' Psalmodia Evangelica, 1789

TRURO

LM

Psalm 29